Gathering

Meditative Music

As we gather for worship we invite you to observe silence and enter into reflection.

The theme of today's worship will focus on a family inclusion of a pet in our lives. You might want to read and reflect on pets past or present, and what they have taught you about living in God's creation.

Space to write down your thoughts: _____

Or you may wish to light a candle at the communion table to symbolize the concerns or joys you carry with you to worship, or whatever is in your heart and mind. Or you may wish to reflect where you are, or if you reflect better walking, please walk around the sanctuary and reflect upon the images you encounter.

St. Francis

The earth is the LORD's, & everything in it, the world, & all who live in it.

Hymn of Celebration

"All Creatures of Our God and King"

No. 77

*Call to Celebration

Leader: We have come together to rejoice with God the Creator at the wonderful creation around us. O God, You love all things that exist, and despise none of the things which You have made, for You would have made nothing You didn't love. You will all things, for they are Yours—O God who loves the living. For Your immortal Spirit is in all things.

People: Let us sing to God a new song, a song for all the creatures of the earth.

Leader: Let us rejoice in the goodness of God shown in the beauty of little things.

People: Let us marvel at the little creatures who are innocent in God's sight.

Leader: Let us extol God's handiwork in the complexity of their lives.

Unison: Let us rejoice in the other worlds sublime and mysterious that God has made—The world of the earthworms burrowing in the ground, the world of skylarks soaring above us, and the world of foxes playing around their dens.

Leader: Let us hear the Divine rejoicing throughout the whole earth: "The earth is mine and the fullness thereof." (Psalm 24:1)

Call to Confession

Leader: Through Christ we are wed to God and to one another.

People: Let us confess our separation from God, from one another, and God's creation,

Leader: Confident that God holds us in an unbreakable covenant.

Prayer of Confession

Our loving God, we are often too haughty or proud, too full of ourselves to see You in each other, especially in those we deem beneath us. We often forget to see Your goodness in "all creatures great and small" for we deem them beneath us or only for our benefit. We have lost sight of the "integrity of creation: the value of all creatures in and for themselves, for one another, and for God, and their interconnectedness in a diverse whole that has unique value for God."* We have lost sight of Your intent for us to be stewards, caretakers of Your creation. We are sorrowful because our relationship with creation may be beyond our power to mend. We are sickened by the times we have taken out our anger on our pets. We pray Thee, let Your grace mend our hearts and the brokenness of our world.

Amen. *A statement from World Council of Churches

Silent Meditation and Personal Confession

Assurance of Forgiveness

Pastor: God made us for life shared. Christ cleanses and purifies us of the things that separate us from God, each other and the universe.

People: It is in the mingling of our lives that we know the power for God to forgive and to make us forgiving.

Pastor: Hear the good news: in Christ we are forgiven.

Blessings to all of you for making our 17th Annual Crop Hunger Walk a resounding success. Though our numbers were slightly lower than last year (175 versus 220 last year), your enthusiasm was evident. (Did anyone notice that the sun came beaming through the clouds at the very moment of "step off"? Now THERE is a sign of God smiling upon our efforts to stomp out hunger in our world! Flu Season is here! Last week we announced that hand sanitizer is available in the Narthex beside the bulletins, but we are now taking precautions a step further based upon recommendations from the H1N1 FLU: A Guide for Community and Faith Based Organizations.

Refrain from shaking hands and hugging. When welcoming visitors and guests, a friendly smile and nod of the chin is suggested during this flu season.

We will adjust Communion practices in order to reduce the spread of flu this winter. This means avoidance of eating and drinking from communal dishes and taking special sanitary precautions.

With education, preventive measures, and the practice of common sense and good habits, let's keep the flu at bay and enjoy a glorious winter season of worship at St. John's Chapel.

Our Mission Statement

St. John's Chapel UCC is called to love unconditionally, seek justice, foster spiritual growth, and embrace diversity of thought and body as taught by Jesus Christ.
